Camp Master Weekend Programs

See 2020-2021 schedule for dates

All the Camp Master demonstrations are usually held on Saturday afternoons on dates scheduled. They are usually a two-hour program which is meant to help you in your weekend Troop camping program and not actually be the only program that the Troop does while you are at camp.

Neckerchief First Aid

This is a basic first aid course run by the camp master that demonstrates how a simple neckerchief can be used for dressings, splints, etc. This is a simple course and can be attended by Webelos or boy scouts. There is no additional fee for this activity. The course is normally held at the Bridge house pavilion

The following crews do the Neckerchief First Aid:

Norris banas.chris@yahoo.com

Paul Bunyan

The camp masters do hands on demo on how to properly use a knife and axe. The crew does Requirements 3 and 4 of the Paul Bunyan Award. This is usually held for older Scouts, but anyone can attend. Anyone interested will need to be physically able to cut down a tree and cut it into useable lengths (see Paul Bunyan requirements in your requirement book). If you have younger boys in your group, they will help with the "Tot and Chip" award.

The following crew does the Paul Bunyan demo:

Breakiron dbreak54@aol.com

Rifle Range

The participants are given the standard safety orientation and then allowed to shoot 22 gauge rifles. The number of times a scout gets to shoot depends on the number of participants involved. Each scout is given ten shots each time he comes up. The range is run by NRA trained instructors on our rifle range and we supply the ammo and rifles. This is for boy scouts only not cubs! There is a cost of two dollars per person per day to defer the cost of equipment, targets, and ammo.

The following crews do a rifle range program:

Paulachok phillippaulachok@eains.com
Dolinger beenie@aol.com
Mann bugmann001@aol.com

Scavenger Hunt

This is just a fun type activity where the scouts are given a list of items and a map to find their way around camp. It allows them to work on their basic map and orientation skills. There is no additional fee for this activity. The hunt starts at the Bridge House.

The following crews do the scavenger hunt:

Norris banas.chris@yahoo.com

Jamboree on the Air - Ham Radio

Third week of October and on request. A station is set up at the Bridge House and campers can experience ham radio operations and see how a system works by talking to people from around the world. There is no charge for this event.

The following crew does the amateur radio program:

Mann bugmann001@aol.com

MacGyver First Aid Kit

This is a very basic first aid class, which teaches the participants what to do if they are in a setting where a first aid kit is not available. The program is done to show the participants how to deal with first aid using everyday items to help a person in distress.

The following crew does this program:

Hastings dcnluke50@gmail.com

Shotgun/ Archery

The program is actually two programs held the same day. Usually in the morning the archery range is open for an open shoot, first come first serve. And in the afternoon the shotgun range is open. There is a cost for the shotgun range of five dollars per person to cover the cost of the shells and the clay pigeons.
