

LYNN C. JONES, LFACHE

Lynn served in various healthcare leadership positions over 40 years and recently retired (“graduated”) from ChristianaCare Health System as a member of the senior leadership team, serving in leadership roles in acute and post acute settings of care.

Lynn served in numerous professional organizations including the Visiting Nurse Associations of America (Board Chair 2011-2013), Delaware Regent of the American College of Healthcare Executives (2012-2015); American Hospital Association Post-Acute Governing Council (Council Chair 2013); Delaware Healthcare Association Post-Acute Council (Council Chair 2014-2018). Lynn is a life fellow (LFACHE) of the American College of Healthcare Executives and recently chaired the ACHE Life Fellows and Retirees committee.

Lynn received a Bachelor of Science in Biology from Westminster College, New Wilmington, PA; Master’s in Healthcare Administration from George Washington University, Washington, DC; and certificate in Health Care Delivery Innovations from Harvard School of Business, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Lynn has held leadership roles in several community organizations, including Board Chair of the YMCA of Delaware (2010-2012); Council President for the Del-Mar-Va Council of Boy Scouts (2014-2017); event chair for American Heart and Stroke Association Heart Ball (2018-2019).

Lynn is Immediate Past President of the Delaware Academy of Medicine/Delaware Public Health Association; Immediate Past President of the Rotary Club of Wilmington; Board member of Del-Mar-Va Boy Scouts Council; Advisory Board of Easter Seals; Board member of Horizons program at Tower Hill.

Lynn is married and has three children and four grandchildren.

