

PAUL GIARRATANO

Paul Giarratano grew up in Salisbury where Scouting was simply a way of life. An Eagle Scout from Troop 149, Paul earned the rank in 2006, joining his three brothers in achieving Scouting's highest honor. He credits the values instilled through Scouting with shaping his character, work ethic, and commitment to service. His continued involvement in youth development includes coaching tee-ball with Fruitland Little League.

Paul is the Owner and Founder of Inner Harbor Tech, a military defense sales firm headquartered in Salisbury, Maryland. Paul's most important role is husband to his wife, Laura, and father to his two daughters, Aria and Olivia. Paul and his family can often be found on the Eastern Shore camping, exploring ecosystems and volunteering in the community.

Paul shared that he is “... excited to give back to the organization that gave so much to my family.”

